

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

By MELVIN LORD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 14—(UP)—California's first attempt at the state regulation of liquor started off with a bang.

As a beginning, the state board of equalization issued 7,236 liquor permits, and announced, when it sent some 400 men into the field to check up on liquor sales, that there would be no "snooping."

Repeal was not so many hours old when Richard Collins and Fred Stewart, board members, indicated they meant business as far as enforcement was concerned by leading raids on four Sacramento "clubs" where liquor was allegedly being sold over the bar. Operators in other parts of the state were ordered to warn speakeasy owners. If the warnings go unheeded, the board has asked for action.

While the excitement caused by Governor Rolph's approval of the San Jose lynchings has died down considerably, telegrams and letters continue to arrive at the governor's office along with reports from various organizations seeking action against Rolph for his stand. The governor has not changed his mind about the whole affair. Telegrams sent him include 2,060 approving his stand as compared to 339 from persons unfavorable.

A plan for California to assume control of all roads and highways in the state, totaling some 70,000 miles, has been submitted to Governor Rolph by a group of Santa Rosa civic leaders. The governor said he would give the proposal "serious consideration." The state added 6,800 miles to its secondary system only this year.

As a part of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge project, Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works, revealed plans for a high-speed transit system to connect bay cities by way of the bridge. The system, Kelly said, would include modern, streamliner trains capable of making 70 miles an hour, across the bridge and all. A request for an additional $15,600,000 loan has been made of the federal reconstruction finance corporation to finance this phase of the project.

An appeal to bankers of the state to aid in the financing of state warrants has been issued by State Controller Ray L. Riley. Issuance of registered warrants probably will be necessary until next August, and cooperation of the banks, Riley said, was necessary to the state's financial program.

While mail applications for 1934 automobile license plates are being accepted now by the state department of motor vehicles, deliveries will not be made until after the holiday mail rush, officials said. Counter deliveries will start January 2.

Fire Destroys Two Cabins At Quarantine Station

Two cabins at the quarantine station at the east end of town were totally destroyed by fire about 5:30 Monday evening.

M. R. Smock, who is employed at the Airport, and occupies one of the cabins, had added fuel to his stove and stepped out of the cabin for a few minutes. Upon his return he found the cabin ablaze. He telephoned to Truckee for assistance and the Volunteer Fire Department responded with several from the Checking Station and Officer C. E. McKeen.

The fire quickly spread to another cabin close by which was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Merriam.

Due to lack of fire fighting facilities and water it was impossible to do anything to save the buildings and all that could be done was to assist in saving the personal effects of Mr. Merriam. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

Wyethia Club Members Hear Mrs. C. H. Preston

The meeting of the Wyethia Club held at their clubhouse last Thursday afternoon was well attended and an interesting address was given by Mrs. C. H. Preston of Roseville on Law Observance.

Following the address tea was served by the hostesses of the afternoon, Mrs. Dan Smith and Mrs. Karl Kiehlhofer.

LARGE LAND OWNERS OBJECT ANNEXATION BY UTILITY DISTRICT

Claim Action Is Illegal. Matter Is Referred To Utility District's Attorney

The hearing by the Board of Directors of the Truckee Public Utility District on the proposed annexation of lands to the Utility District was held on Tuesday evening.

A number of the large land owners affected by the proposed annexation by the District filed written protests, contending that the District's action was illegal and would confiscate their property without due process of law.

W. B. Gelatt, manager of the Donner Lake Co., F. F. Kearney, leading poultry raiser of the Sierra Region and F. Brauns, a representative from the tax attorney's office of the Southern Pacific Co. were present and voiced their objection to the District's action.

Those sending in written protests were Sierra Pacific Power Co., Southern Pacific and Central Pacific Co., Southern Pacific Land Co., Pacific Fruit Express Co., Donner Lake Co., National Ice Co., Union Ice Co., Alice Perazzo, San Francisco Fly Casting Club and Robert E. Euer.

The area it is proposed to annex by the District extends from the west end of Donner Lake to the Fly Casting Club house and north from the Placer County line four miles.

The matter has been referred by the Directors to the attorney for the District for advice and suggestions as to the next steps to be taken.

Consecration Ceremony At Catholic Church Sun. Night

A very beautiful ceremony was performed on Sunday evening, December 10th at the Catholic Church when the Junior Children of Mary were consecrated to the Blessed Virgin.

The president appointed Mrs. Mildred Saunders and Mrs. S. E. Gordon as their Patronesses.

Father Moran gave an appropriate sermon to the children and then followed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

During Benediction the children sang the Benediction hymns, accompanied by Anna Giovannoni at the organ.

The children's choir was recently organized by Anna Giovannoni, and under her direction, it promises to be very successful. While they have had very little practice, they can correctly play and sing Mass and Benediction hymns.

PUBLIC INVITED TO WYETHIA BAZAAR AND ENTERTAINMENT

Plans have been completed for the Bazaar and entertainment to be given by the members of the Wyethia Club at their club house on Friday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon there will be on sale fancy work, aprons and home made candy. In the evening at 8 P. M. an entertainment to be furnished by the school children will be given with cards to follow for those who wish to play. At this time the box of groceries and turkey will be raffled off. The sale will also be continued in the evening.

It is hoped by the Wyethia Club that many will take advantage of this opportunity to assist them by patronizing the bazaar.

SANITARY BOARD ORDINANCE IS AMENDED

Charge For Handling Garbage Reduced From 75 Cents To 50 Cents Per Month

An agreement has been reached between the Truckee Sanitary Board and Sam Costa whereby beginning the month of December, the charge for handling garbage once a week from a private dwelling house, residence or apartment will be 50 cents a month instead of 75 cents, as was provided for under the original agreement. The charge for business house collection will remain the same.

Elsewhere in this issue is the legal notice of the re-passage of Ordinance 4 applying to the garbage collection for the district. The Sanitary Board points out that it would be well for all residents of the District to become familiar with the ordinance again, since it has become necessary to follow its enforcement more stringently.

The Sanitary Board decided at its last regular meeting that it would be financially impossible to institute a free garbage collection system to be financed by taxation of property within the district.

There is an erroneous idea by some that the dump at Trout Creek is free for the public to use. The dump, the Board states, is still under the control of Sam Costa, whose contract for garbage collection has not yet expired, and he has the right to prevent anyone dumping there without his permission. It is the belief of the Board that if they had control of the dump for public use, that there would still be trouble in dumping the material at a proper place, especially during the winter months. This was tried several years ago without success.

The Board asks the cooperation of the residents of the district in complying with the ordinance, but at the same time they stand ready to enforce it if necessary by prosecution if anyone attempts to violate it. It is felt by the Board that the people of the community have the proper pride to keep its surroundings in a respectable condition by avoiding the dumping of trash, tin cans, garbage, etc. and will not object to such a small charge as 50 cents a month to keep the community in a sanitary and neat condition by properly disposing of such material.

Miss Menia Moretta, who is enjoying a two weeks vacation from her duties at the local Bank of America, was a recent visitor in San Francisco. She was accompanied by her mother.

Special Election To Be Held Tuesday On Water Project

California will have the opportunity on December 19 of securing a great public development, with jobs for 25,000 California workers for at least three years, and thereafter an increasing profit to the state at large.

This can be brought about by voting approval of the Central Valley Water Project, by which large areas in the San Joaquin Valley and the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta will be saved from ruin and a large amount of electrical energy generated for California factories, home owners and farmers.

In addition, the failing water supply in Fresno, Tulare, Madera, Kings and Kern counties will be augmented, and the flood waters of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, now a menace, will be stored for gradual use during the dry season.

This project is a substantial part of California's recovery project, and IT WILL BE SELF-SUSTAINING.

A Record Case

Wisconsin set a record for swift justice when August Steward, above, of Laona, started serving a life term less than 24 hours after fatally shooting Otto Olson, Laona marshal, when surprised in a robbery. The crime occurred at 10 p.m., Steward was arrested at midnight, confessed the following noon, pleaded guilty and was sentenced at 3:30 p.m., and was in prison at Waupun before 10 p.m.

FINAL BRIDGE PARTY AT CATHOLIC PARISH HOUSE TONIGHT

The final bridge party in the series of four which have been held at the Catholic Parish House for the past month will be held tonight at 8 P. M. Plans are being made to make his an especially enjoyable party to wind up the series and the grand prize will be awarded at this time to the one holding the high score for all four parties. The grand prize is a very beautiful china stein set.

The prizes for the party held last week were awarded to Miss Marion Lothrop, first, and Mrs. Chas. Hope, consolation for the ladies and Ben Tonini, first, and C. B. White consolation for the gentlemen.

MISS MARJORIE FAY HONORED AT PARTY AT WYETHIA CLUB

Miss Marjorie Fay, whose engagement was announced on Thanksgiving day to Lawrence Zoebel, was complimented at a party Friday evening at the Wyethia Club by the members of the club and their invited guests.

Musical numbers were given during the evening and were followed by bridge.

The honor guest was presented with a gift of silver with Miss Frances Polyanich making the presentation.

Miss Olga Owens will arrive at her home in town on Friday to spend the holidays from San Francisco where she is attending school.

CHAMBER MAKES APPLICATION FOR AIRPORT PROJECT

$5,000 Would Be Spent To Improve Truckee-Tahoe Airport South of Town

At a meeting held in Sacramento last Friday in connection with the ten million dollar airport program outlined by the federal government, the Truckee Chamber of Commerce made application for $5,000 for the improvement and enlargement of the Truckee-Tahoe Airport, located one mile south of Truckee on the Brockway-Truckee highway.

It is proposed to grade and extend the present east and west runway an additional 1,000 feet and to build a new north and south runway approximately 3,000 feet in length and 300 feet in width. The full $5,000, with the exception of $600, which is permitted for material, must be used for labor. Work on this project is expected by the government to be undertaken within the next fifteen days. An engineer from the Aeronautical Department of Commerce will investigate and pass upon all projects before work is undertaken.

The present location of the Truckee Tahoe Airport has already been investigated by Department of Aeronautical Engineers sometime ago, who stated that it is one of the best locations for an airport in the Sierra Nevada mountains.

Attractive Christmas Gifts On Display

The merchants of Truckee are ready for the holiday trade and the stores have been most attractively decorated with a wide variety of merchandise to select any gift that may be desired.

The Loyd Drug Store has displays of toilet articles, stationery, leather goods, pens, pencils and candy in holiday wrappers which are most complete.

Rossarini's Dry Goods Store is ready to serve the public with gifts for men, women and children. Their stock is large and varied and most attractive.

The window displays at the Truckee Sport Shop with its decorated Christmas trees and snow covered log cabin and a most complete line of electrical goods and sporting goods brings many favorable comments.

The merchants have endeavored to give the people of the region an opportunity to do their shopping in Truckee by offering merchandise which is not only attractive but priced reasonably.

SILVER TEA AT HOME OF MRS. DAN SMITH

An invitation has been extended to the public to attend a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Dan Smith on Church St. on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock.

The tea is being given for the benefit of the M. E. Church. At this time there will be on sale fancy work and aprons at very reasonable prices which have been made and donated by the Ladies Aid Society of the church.

Truckee Has Snowfall Of Fourteen Inches

Truckee residents were given an opportunity to get their shovels out this morning to clear their sidewalks and streets of the recent snowstorm.

The storm, which started on Monday evening with heavy rains, turned on Wednesday to snow which continued until Thursday morning, with about fourteen inches of snow.

The Summit has remained open and all cars were allowed to go thru with chains.

Mrs. Frank Carson was operated on last Thursday at St. Mary's Hospital in Reno and is progressing nicely.

C. B. WHITE APPOINTED ON COMMITTEE

35 Men To Go To Work At Once. 60 Cents An Hour Will Be Paid

C. B. White, president of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce, has been notified that he has been appointed on the Nevada County Committee for the civil works administration. The other members, who are from the west end of the county, are R. J. Bennett, R. A. Eddy, Fred Bitney and M. Henry Argall.

Mr. White was notified that tentative O. K. had been given to one of the projects which had been submitted by the Chamber of Commerce, and that he was authorized to hire 35 men to the extent of an expenditure of $4,370. The necessary tools to be used by the men will be furnished by the county.

Mr. White states that he expects to start men on the project as outlined at once.

The project calls for work on the county roads in the way of extending shoulders and drainage, together with the installation in some places of the necessary culverts and drain pipes.

The wage schedule calls for the payment of 60 cents an hour with a six hour day and five days a week. Where time is lost on account of inclement weather or unavoidable delay, the men will be worked the succeeding week to make up for the lost time; however, there will not be more than 130 hours worked in each calendar month.

No person under sixteen years of age will be employed and the maximum of human labor will be used in lieu of machinery wherever practical and consistent.

In the employment of men for this project preference will be given first to married veterans with dependents, then other married men with dependents, single veterans and all others follow.

Checks to meet the payroll will come directly from the state administrator's office in San Francisco.

Every effort is being made to have the second project which has been submitted to be O. K'd at an early date so that the unemployed will be given work thruout the winter months.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY BY NORDEN SCHOOL

Friday, December 15th will bring to a close the school term of Norden School, which comprises pupils from Big Ben, Norden, Summit and Tunnel Six with an enrollment of 14 pupils, who have shown a marked degree of accomplishments under their very able and efficient teacher, Mrs. Ethel Threlkel, who has taken a very personal interest in each of her proteges and feels amply repaid for her efforts in the high ratings of each pupil in their examinations.

Norden school is without a doubt a school without comparison with its geographical location of any in the United States. It is located on the mainline of the Southern Pacific Railroad near Summit station at an altitude of 7,015 feet, with Lincoln Peak to the south, Castle Peak to the north, Lake Van Norden to the west and Donner Peak to the east and from all accounts plenty of snow will be on the ground surrounding the school to lend the seasonal decorations.

Special mention is made of Alice Boomer as not having been absent or tardy the entire school term, which commenced on April 3rd.

The teacher has arranged a program for closing day that for the ages of the participants is without equal in that the entire performance (Continued on Back Page)

WHAT IS SOUND MONEY?

By United Press

"Sound money!" Well, what is it? Certainly not the type of dollar in use at the time of the economic crash, according to many California editors.

Others believe it is only a catch phrase with which opponents of the Roosevelt program hope to win supporters of their cause.

The average citizen knows little about money and doesn't understand the gold buying campaign in an effort to raise commodity prices, said the Ferndale Enterprise, adding: "As a matter of fact, the connection is simple enough if simply explained—it's very much like an auction. The more people you get to bid for an object, the more valuable it becomes. That's true of gold. At the same time the value of the dollar, which has a definite gold backing, declined, and commodity prices went up. Briefly described, the dollar has been cheapened, and it is worth less wheat, clothing or gasoline than it was a while ago."

For several years American sales in foreign markets suffered because of the disparity between United States dollars and the money of other nations, remarks the Pasadena Star-News. "With the dollar now meeting foreign money on its own basis," adds the Star-News, "this disastrous discrepancy is being offset somewhat by a revival of exports from the United States. Shippers report a marked increase in the movement of cotton and scrap steel to the Orient; and operators in European trade likewise express optimism because of upturns due to currency valuations and an adjusted exchange."

Regarding agitation for return to the gold standard, The San Francisco News declares: "If the bankers and orthodox economists are right, how does it happen that their precious gold system helped to drag us down to depression and helped to keep us there during almost four years? It was not the Roosevelt monetary policy that brought us low. It was not the Roosevelt monetary policy that broke the banks, threw millions of unemployed workers on the streets, bankrupted agriculture and destroyed American confidence and hope. All that happened under the system to which they now wish us to return as a thing of perfection."

"Naturally," comments the Santa Ana Register, "the question of what we are going to use for money will be uppermost in our national political life for a great many years. It may be a gold dollar of only half the present gold content, or one of even smaller gold content. But after observing the flight of gold from one nation to another, after observing that it is subject to the financial manipulation of the few, the suspicion grows daily that the gold dollar is a diseased dollar that has served its day and age and that a new dollar, redeemable in commodities, deserves at least a trial."

In this connection, the Gerber Star states: "It has become apparent that the world's business cannot be operated wholly on gold. It may always be the backbone of money—but it cannot live up to the job of being the heart and the tissue and corpuscles, too. It needs an ally. And silver, the poor man's gold, is eminently fitted for that position."

"One conclusion may be reached after consideration of the mass of extremely confusing developments in the realm of American monetary policy," said the Long Beach Sun, "is that the present phase is not permanent and is likely to be of short duration. The day by day fluctuations of the value of the dollar, as a result of the government's bidding for gold, is intended as a policy of adjustment. If and when the dollar declines to what the national administration regards as a fair purchasing power, the manipulation will cease."

HARASSED BACHELORS

Bachelorhood isn't what it used to be, especially in Italy and Germany. The wholesale wedding held recently in Rome illustrates the unfair discrimination now shown in favor of matrimony. Five thousand brides and grooms not only had a grand wedding ceremony performed free of charge, but every couple was given $6 in cash and a $15 savings bank certificate. There is to be free baptism, too, for their offspring.

This generosity really isn't extended by a benevolent government, either. It is the bachelors who pay for it. The wedding fees and gifts come out of a special tax levied on them.

Our own young men, or those of them who have no yearning for matrimonial bonds, may take warning and organize in self-defense. Nobody can tell when the menace will head in this direction.

GENEVA'S CLOCKS

The sun came out as I stepped on to the pavement outside the station, and as it was only a short way to my hotel, I decided to ignore the hotel bus, and walk. Already, over the tumbled roofs, I had caught a glimpse of snow-clad mountains. They looked very lovely, but strangely formal, like white ornaments arranged against a blue wall. Down below, at the end of the street, was a glimpse of silver blue water. I walked towards it, past shops that were just opening for the day—shops from whose dark interiors came delicious smells of bread fresh from the ovens, and fruit, and straw, and hot chocolate.

After breakfast, I went out again and walked along the Quai. You may be impatient to get to more serious things, but I cannot help that. I can never settle down to work, in a new city, until I have absorbed something of its atmosphere. And in any case, peace or no peace, I cannot resist the temptation of writing about the clock-shops.

For every other shop on this long promenade is a clock-shop. The windows sparkle with clocks of every conceivable colour, size and shape. There are clocks in brilliant enamels, clocks in course woods with brightly painted peasants nodding away the minutes. There are clocks the size of green peas, exquisitely jewelled with tiny emeralds dangling on a frail chain. There are very modern clocks, with chromium plated pistons relentlessly jogging up and down. There are terribly arty clocks, showing a picture of cotton-wool mountains with the clock-face painted to look like the setting sun. There are, of course, thousands of cuckoo-clocks, and cow clocks, too, that whirr and moo, and clocks like churches, the simple wooden churches of the mountains above.

Time is en fete in these enchanting shops. The passing hour has been turned to a carnival. Is it three or four or five or six? Night or day? What does it matter? The clocks tick on gaily, flicking their tiny figures in perpetual contempt of accuracy. A clock, one had thought, was a sober thing—a guide and mentor. A clock improved—one was always hinting that it was time to stop, or time to start—was always tut-tutting because one did not obey. A clock, yes, one clock. But ten thousand clocks are different. Time seems to have no control over them. They put their little hands to their faces and pull a long nose at him. He runs round, in the person of some tiresome man, trying to pull those hands into their proper place, but they are too many for him. So, at last, Time gives up, and the clocks tell as many stories as they please.

And if you go into one of these little shops, and linger for a while, you will hear every hour of the day struck, in sweet tinkling sounds, and gay bells, and ridiculous squeaks. And you feel that the clocks are laughing at Time, who is no longer their master, nor yours.—From "Cry Havoc!" by Beverley Nichols.

SCULPTOR

Here is another day again—
A lump of clay for molding;
By night how much will fall away,
How much shall I be holding?

Here is the clay, and here the hands,
And here the tools for trying:
What will it be—a lovely thing,
Or odds and ends a-drying?

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

The Doctor Wishes His Patients Were a Bit More Co-operative

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

THE season for wishing and well wishing is here. People often wish their doctors would do some things differently and the doctor wishes his patients would do some things differently. There are so many desirable changes, that one scarcely knows where to commence. Of course, the doctor wishes all his patients were rich and free handed, but he knows that is a wasteful desire. He has certain kinds of patients he would like to see reform.

ONE kind are sick and feel that they need assistance, but think the doctor will not consider them as sick as they are and will laugh at them. Hence, when they visit their physician, they paint their symptoms worse than they really are, so as to impress him with their seriousness. Their physician listens to their story, observes them and makes his examination. The two don't agree and he is puzzled. Twice two do not make four in this case, and he has been led to a false verdict, through false testimony.

ANOTHER type of patient does not want to be considered sick. He informs the doctor that he is all right, but his family thinks that something is the matter with him and insist on

Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 14—(UP)—Introducing Fred E. Stewart, liquor control king of California, previously known as a "member" of the state board of equalization.

Although recognizing some weak points in the state control law, Stewart can do nothing about it but attempt to enforce all provisions of the act, since the board of equalization was charged with that duty and the task of getting set for enforcement seemed to slide naturally onto the broad, wretchedly shouldered of the younger board member. "Don't blame the board for this law," says he to complaining hotel men, brewers and winery owners. "You had an opportunity to draw up the kind of control measures you needed, but you didn't take advantage of it. The people of California voted this measure, and we're going to enforce it."

Stewart showed it wasn't the best policy to hurl challenges at the board and the law when he led Chairman Richard E. Collins and two or three others on the first raids of speakeasies operating under the guise of "clubs."

He's determined to eliminate speakeasies and bootleggers, and thinks he can do it with the co-operation of local police and sheriffs, city officials, 50 state liquor police and 350 sales tax inspectors who temporarily will assist in the control work.

Hotel men probably have reason to complain, even though they took little active interest in drawing up a control act, except to assure themselves of permission to serve wine. Under the complex terms of the law, they cannot buy wine in large barrel quantities and bottle it for table purposes (without having a winery license for bottling), a wholesaler's license (for retailing the wine to themselves), and maintaining separate premises for the bottling and wholesaling businesses. As a result, to escape all that expense, they must buy only bottled goods, which are far more expensive.

Political observers believe the control work, if successful and popular, will give Stewart an opportunity to build a powerful statewide organization which will stand him in good stead if he decides to enter the gubernatorial race four and one-half years hence. He is flatly opposed to governorship suggestions just now.

Friends of Bert B. Meek, mentioned as a probable candidate for governor in 1934, state flatly that he will not run. It seems that the former director of the department of public works has too many other interests, and does not wish to become involved in a political fight at this time. He was one of the most prominent candidates mentioned, and observers in the mountain counties said he would carry that section overwhelmingly.

CARELESSNESS IS THE CAUSE OF MOST BEAUTY ERRORS

By JACQUELINE HUNT

MOST of the commonness and ugliness we see around us is due to carelessness or to lack of knowledge. Without careful attention to details and intelligence, true beauty and good taste are almost impossible.

The wise woman takes time for the smallest details of grooming that give her charm and poise. She also takes time and trouble to find out the cosmetics that are right for her and she always knows how to combine details so that her finished ensemble looks well.

All of us make mistakes occasionally, but we shouldn't make the same mistakes over and over again. The beauty assets that you have are precious. They cannot be replaced and cosmetics and clothes are expensive, so it will pay you to study yourself well and plan carefully before attempting a beauty treatment or spending money for cosmetics and clothes.

One of the common mistakes that women make is refusing to pay attention to directions. While beauty experts remind you time and again that the skin can be thoroughly cleaned only with soap and water, you will apply a film of cold cream, then wipe it half off with a cloth or tissues. Soiled oil remains in your pores and finally blemishes result and you either develop an exceedingly oily or a dry scale skin.

So many of you claim that you cannot use soap and water on your skin. Sometimes the trouble may lie with the soap that you use. A soap that is strong may contain free alkalis that irritate your skin—or the soap may be so bland that it cannot dissolve the grime and oil on your skin, so your skin is only half cleansed when you wash it. Your soap should make a good lather. Work this into the skin with your fingertips or with a rough washcloth, and then rinse thoroughly.

Careless rinsing is frequently to blame for irritated skins. If your skin tends to be dry and feels drawn after the soap and water cleansing apply a film of all-purpose cream or "nourishing" cream and let it remain there from ten minutes to half an hour. Remove the excess oil with tissues and finish with a very cold rinse or with a sponging of skin tonic. This treatment will improve your skin and will build up its resistance.

Do not use an astringent on a sensitive, dry skin. Women so often do this because they think it is needed to prevent wrinkles or because they have heard that an older woman needs an astringent. If your skin is sensitive and you have difficulty finding a tonic that doesn't seem drying and irritating, then depend on cold water. It will not harm your skin and it is gently toning and firming.

About the commonest mistake that women make causes me trouble. It is the idea that you can make up for neglect by a sudden zealous interest in beauty treatments. You can do a great deal to improve the complexion, the hair or the figure that has been neglected, but all the beauty treatments in the world can never give you back your original loveliness. Use every ounce of your skill and knowledge to prevent beauty troubles and you will be happier and more beautiful.

TAHOE REGION NEWS

By "SWANEE"

Distinguished Los Angeles visitors at Tahoe on Sunday were Mr. William Thorpe, prominent official of the Los Angeles Water and Power Co., Mr. E. A. C. Hammond Jr., Mr. J. H. Giles and Mr. John Stevens, Secretary of the Municipal League of Los Angeles, who were guests of Constable Carl Becholdt at Tahoe Inn.

According to a statement by Mr. Thorpe, this committee of four is spending some time in Tahoe and vicinity for the express purpose of studying and comparing relative property and resort values in the lake area, especially at the lowered water level. Yosemite also will be surveyed and all with the ultimate view of appraising impartially the Mono Lake properties to be affected if the city of Los Angeles is victor in a condemnation suit, brought some four years ago, which will come to trial in Superior Court at Sonoma, Tuolumne County, on January 8th, 1934. The city of Los Angeles proposes to divert the Rush, Mill and LaVina Creeks, which now empty into the brackish, sulphuric waters of Mono Lake, (which, as is well known, are unfit for drinking or bathing, and wherein no fish can live, as Frank and Archie of KNX radio fame discovered a year or so ago) for domestic use in the city of Los Angeles. This at the present time is an urgent requisite for the city with its ever increasing populace. Exorbitant figures for damages are being demanded by some of the property owners of the Mono Lake district, and so the trip to Tahoe, and possibly other lake regions, for the purpose of arriving at comparatively fair appraisal values. The party left town on Sunday night for Reno where they were the guests of Matt Dromlack at the Overland Hotel.

Mrs. Carl Becholdt of Tahoe Inn enjoyed a birthday on Thanksgiving Day, receiving many beautiful presents, congratulatory telegrams and flowers. About 7:00 P. M. a large group of friends sat down to a birthday dinner served in the Tahoe Inn dining room. The tables were gaily decorated with tall candles, holly and chrysanthemum. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Geyer, Mr. and Mrs. John Abazina and Mr. and Mrs. Ginnochi, all of Reno, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Jones and "Scotty" Allan of Soda Springs, Mrs. Teresa Matthews and Father Moran of Truckee, Andrew Sumpter and Mr. B. Evans, besides the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Becholdt and sons. Dancing was enjoyed in the dining room following the repast, until a late hour, Mr. Ginnochi, an expert accordion player, furnishing the music.

Sheriff Elmer Gum and Asst. District Atty. Slade of Auburn sent Mrs. Becholdt for her birthday, a suckling pig, candy, flowers and other goodies. On Sunday the pig furnished the incentive for a delightful dinner, which was served about 1:30 P. M. at the Inn. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller of Meeks Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soll of Pine Lodge, Captain Hans Hansen of Rubicon Lodge, Joe Sanders of Truckee, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry and children Fatsy and Junior, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schmidt and daughter Patsy of Pomin's Resort, Bill Shifton, Bub Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson and son Jimmie the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Becholdt and the following guests of honor: Traffic Officers Bob Parr of Ventura County, Jess Urey of San Luis Obispo and Joe Nobel of Oxnard, Ventura County. The three officers are at present stationed at the Traffic Patrol School at Sacramento, where Inspector Everett McKee, Tahoe's popular and amiable summer highway patrolman, is in command. The delicious dinner was followed by bridge or dancing, for guests who cared to indulge.

On Sunday night Mr. and Mrs. William Topp entertained at an elaborate turkey dinner party at their attractive home in Tahoe Cedars. Those who shared their hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schmidt and daughter, Francis Ford and Mrs. Charles Swanson and son Jimmie.

Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Mayfield on Sunday were hosts at a charming dinner at their Tahoe City home. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nielsen of Sunnyside, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Howrigan and daughter Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carman of Reno, Martin Spitsen and Douglas Smith. Bridge was enjoyed following dinner until a late hour.

Henry Soll of Pine Lodge had a crew of men on Saturday cutting and storing ice for summer use. The ice this year on General Creek was about 10 inches thick and quite clear.

On Thursday Mrs. A. M. Henry and Mrs. C. W. Vernon motored to Meeks Bay where they visited at the home of Mrs. H. M. Walker and were luncheon guests of Mrs. Charles Heller.

Wert Tong has been busy the past weeks cutting Christmas trees for city markets.

Professor Henry Hinkle of Stanford and Tahoe, while in San Francisco this week, met with an unfortunate mishap, luckily escaping injury. While backing out of a parking space his car was struck with terrific force by a speed-minded motorist who whirled his car around in the street, nearly upsetting it, and partially demolishing same. Mr. Hinkle miraculously escaped uninjured.

On Friday, December 15th, at 7:45

P. M. sharp, at the Tahoe Grammar School, will be held the Christmas school program, which promises to be exceptionally interesting this year. If, however, the weather becomes stormy, which appears quite likely at this writing, the time will be changed to 1:00 P. M. instead. There will be no admission charge and all are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following the entertainment. There will be among other things, a large beautifully decorated Christmas tree, Christmas carols and recitations, three part choral numbers and several plays, some original. The greatest thrill of the evening, however, will be the presentation for the first time by Mr. Otto Fox of Auburn of the 23 piece orchestra, which has been practicing assiduously for this momentous occasion. It is hoped a fine crowd will be on hand to witness the excellent progress made by the combined talent of these young people, who are a bit proud of the rapid strides they have made in the field of music. Prior to the entertainment the school children will enjoy an exchange of inexpensive Christmas gifts, each child having drawn the name of a school mate from a large box, to whom he must play Santa. So remember the date folks, Friday, December 15th, 7:45 P. M. if the weather is nice—1:00 P. M. if storming. Come all and bring your friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hansen of Reno were recent guests at the A. M. Anderson home at Tahoe City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wagner of Lake Forest received the sad news this week of the death of Mrs. Wagner's granddaughter, Georgia Hayward, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Carter, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. A. Hayward in Oakland on Thursday last. The young lady, just 17, was well known at Tahoe, having attended school here during part of her childhood, while residing with Mrs. Wagner.

Mrs. Henry Soll of Pine Lodge suffered a sharp, but mild, attack of appendicitis last week, receiving medical attention later in Reno.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Walker of Rubicon Park entertained on Sunday at dinner Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry and children of Tahoe City.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Atherton of Tahoe, who returned recently from a trip to the bay cities, visited at Auburn with Mrs. Bickford, well known here at Tahoe.

Ed Wagner of Lake Forest suffered a painful injury last week when he ran a long hardwood silver thru the inside length of his hand, it coming out above the wrist, while planing off a door which had warped. His wife extracted the silver and rendered efficient first aid.

Mrs. Wagner herself was quite ill with an attack of appendicitis last week and was under the care of Dr. J. H. Bernard of Truckee. Her condition is now more favorable.

Word from Sacramento reveals that Mrs. A. W. Jost of Homewood Hotel, who suffered a light stroke here recently, is much improved and expects to soon be around again.

Fred Cowell of Tahoe City is now at Grass Valley where he has secured work.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Simmonds and Mrs. Weller Atherton were called hurriedly to Fallon on Saturday when word was received telling of the severe illness of Glenn Simmonds, youngest son of Mr. Simmonds, who was very ill with pneumonia. He passed away on Monday morning. Interment will be at Fallon. The sincere and wholehearted sympathy of the entire community is extended the Simmonds and Atherton families in their hour of bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. George West and family, who left some time ago when Mr. West was transferred to Ukiah by the State Fish and Game Department, are reported by friends as being greatly pleased with their new surroundings and neighbors, quite contrary to their advance expectations.

Wind which ruffled the waters of the lake and moaned thru the trees all day Monday, brought rain to Tahoe Monday night, terrific gales with rain and sleet continued all night, snow arriving in the lower stretches around the lake about 10:30 Tuesday morning. Electric light service was disrupted for hours Tuesday A. M. while crews worked repairing lines.

A new Peace Officers Association for Placer County is being contemplated, the organization of which will be attempted sometime in January, 1934, at Roseville, according to a letter received by Constable Carl Becholdt of Tahoe City from Captain C. J. LaPorte of the California Highway Patrol at Roseville. The aim of the association would be to strengthen the friendly cooperation now existing between officers, and would give instruction of the rules of evidences, arrests, the rights of an officer, etc. Lowell Sparks, District Attorney of Placer County, has volunteered his valuable assistance in regard to clarifying any of the foregoing points of the law. The idea, which is being enthusiastically received everywhere, is practically assured a successful future already.

Mrs. Chris Nielsen of Sunnyside this week received word from Mrs. Otto Darlin of Tahoe Pines, who left Tahoe some time ago with her family on a trip to Norway. Writing from New York, she declared their journey so far had been a pleasant one, but that a storm was raging at that time in New York. They sailed from that city on the 9th aboard a Norwegian liner for the homeland of Mr. Darlin.

Dr. C. B. Pedersen was a visitor in Tahoe on Friday, making the trip up from San Francisco for needed medicines and equipment left here.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nielsen were Auburn visitors on Friday. While there they were luncheon guests of Assessor Guy Lukens and wife.

Mrs. Otis Hursey and son Roger Phillip returned to Tahoe on Tuesday from Fallon where she had been visiting her mother. The Hurseys on Thursday were hosts at a guinea hen dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Walker of Rubicon Park were hosts on Friday at a dinner party their guests including Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. William Warwick of Meeks Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller entertained over the week end Mr. and Mrs. Denkal Peterson and Miss Claire Bolling of San Francisco. Miss Rosalee Heller arrived home for the winter on Sunday, having completed her course of beauty culture in the southern city. The party enjoyed a long hike on Sunday morning, returning home to San Francisco on Sunday night.

The day before Thanksgiving Fred Flannett, while taking his mother Mrs. J. J. Planett of Carnelian Bay for a spin in the family car, covered just about a mile's distance from home when he met another motorist on a sharp curve, who applied his brakes too speedily, causing his car to crash into the Planett machine. A repair bill of $75 is to be settled by the offending party.

On Saturday night Captain Hans Hansen of Rubicon Lodge entertained a group of friends at dinner, guests including Mr. and Mrs. Ted Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller of Meeks Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Denkal Peterson and Miss Claire Bolling of San Francisco. Cards were enjoyed during the later hours of the evening.

WAITING FOR CUSTOMERS

IF BEING handsome is the aid to salesmanship it is reputed to be—surely this Indian girl's golden cakes will quickly find takers! Some of the most magnificent Indian types to be seen anywhere in the world today are found in the little villages nestling in the mountains of Bolivia and Peru—many of them pure types descended from the tribes which made up the ancient Inca Empire. So fascinating are these hidden-away Indian villages that few travelers taking the weekly "Santa" cruises from California and New York down the west coast of South America are content to leave Lima, capital of Peru, without taking the thrilling rail trip up the three-mile high mountains behind the city to visit the villages scattered along the route.

Huancayo he seldom-visited little town in which this photograph was taken is perhaps the most interesting because its market, thronged with Indians from all the outlying districts, is considered by many visitors to be more colorful even than the Indian market of La Paz, Bolivia, famous the world over. Architecture equally picturesque, a location 11,000 miles above sea-level which affords marvelous birdseye-views of the surrounding country, and a temperate climate, are added attractions.

Visiting in interest with the Indians dwelling in Huancayo are those in the Chanchamayo valley where tribes changed only to a small degree by civilization, still cling to many of the superstitions and habits in vogue during the days of the Incas. The Indians in this district still decorate their faces with red and yellow dye, wear long loose robes, and deck themselves with bright strings of beads and brilliant feather crowns.

NEW FORD V-8 for 1934

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The New Ford V-8 for 1934 is now on display at the showrooms of Ford dealers. Surpassing even the great Ford of 1933 in economy, beauty and comfort, it is truly the car of this modern age—the culmination of thirty years Ford progress. It combines the proved performance of the V-8 cylinder engine with two important new features—Dual Carburetion and perfected Clear-vision Ventilation. See this car today and drive it at the first opportunity.

OUTSTANDING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NEW FORD V-8

BETTER PERFORMANCE. Greater power, new speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather—all these result from the new dual carburetor and dual intake manifold. New water-line thermostats enable the engine to warm up more quickly and to maintain an efficient operating temperature. Added engine refinements reduce oil consumption, further improve operating economy and reduce maintenance costs.

NEW VENTILATION SYSTEM permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control for front and rear side windows. When ventilation is desired the window glass is raised to the top. Then the handle is given an additional half-turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to form a narrow slot. Through this slot air is drawn out by the forward motion of the car. This simple ventilation system maintains draft-free circulation, insures passenger comfort, prevents fogging windshield in cold or stormy weather. Both windshield and cowl ventilator can be opened to supply additional air needed for comfortable warm-weather driving.

DISTINCTIVE NEW APPEARANCE enhanced by the newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, new hood louvers, new hub caps. Interiors are attractive, with new tufted upholstery, new mouldings, new cove-type headlining, new instrument panel, new arm rests, new hardware. Swivel-type sun visors in DeLuxe bodies prevent glare from front or side.

FENDERS IN COLOR. On DeLuxe cars fenders are in color to harmonize with body colors—wheel colors optional. New enamel finish on all bodies and fenders has greater wearing quality and more enduring luster.

GREATER RIDING COMFORT results from increased spring flexibility. The spring leaves are newly designed for quieter and easier action. Shock absorbers are improved. Seat cushions are deeper, with new, softer springs. New type, individual bucket seats provide increased comfort for front-seat passengers in the Tudor Sedan. Adding to comfort is the new driving ease of the 15-to-1 steering gear ratio.

PRICES REMAIN LOW—Tudor Sedan, $533. Coupe, $515. Fordor Sedan, $585. DeLuxe Tudor, $575. DeLuxe Fordor, $625. DeLuxe Coupe (5 windows), $555. DeLuxe Coupe (3 windows), $555. DeLuxe Roadster, $525. DeLuxe Phaeton, $550. Cabriolet, $590. Victoria, $610. (All prices f. o. b. Detroit.)

If you are broke, read this letter from an Oklahoman to his banker, and feel better.

"It is impossible for me to make a further payment on my note. My present financial condition is due to the effects of federal laws, state laws, county laws, corporation laws, by-law, mother-in-laws and outlaws that have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public. Through these various laws I have been held down, held up, walked on, sat on, flattened and squeezed until I do not know where am, what I am, and why I am.

"These laws compel me to pay a merchant's tax, capital stock tax, income tax, real estate tax, property tax, auto tax, gas tax, water tax, cigar tax, street tax, school tax, syntax and carpet tax.

"The government has so governed my business that I do not know who owns it. I am suspected, expected, inspected, disrespected, examined, reexamined until all I know is that I'm supplicated for money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I refuse to go fall and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away I am cussed and discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, held down and robbed until I am nearly ruined; so the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what is coming next."

"Say, room mate, what's the idea of wearing my raincoat?"

"You wouldn't want your new suit to get wet, would you?"

NEW FORD CAR NOW ON DISPLAY AT MORE THAN 7,000 DEALERS

DETROIT, Mich.—The new Ford V-8 for 1934 was put on display last Saturday in more than 7,000 Ford dealerships throughout the United States, Edsel F. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company announced.

The new Ford has greater power, more speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon, especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather, plus refined body lines and a new built-in system of clear-vision body ventilation.

"The new car is the best car the Ford Motor Company ever built," the Ford president said. "Basically, it is the same car as the hundreds of thousands of other Ford V-8s now on the road. It simply incorporates numerous improvements in engine and chassis design, the new body ventilation system and refinements in body styling and appointments which have been brought to a proper stage of development during past year in our engineering research."

Fenders on de luxe cars now are in color to harmonize with the body colors. Wheel colors are optional. A new enamel finish is used on all bodies. This has greater wearing qualities, a more enduring lustre and requires only washing to restore its brilliance. Bodies are of steel, electrically welded one-piece construction.

All body types are equipped with safety glass windshields, while the de luxe body types are fitted with safety glass throughout.

The new carburetion system and other engine refinements not only give better gasoline mileage and oil economy but also insure smoother operation at all speeds and particularly at normal driving speeds. With the new carburetor is used a dual intake manifold which distributes the vaporized gasoline equally to each cylinder, very materially improving engine performance and providing quicker starting in cold weather. Gasoline economy is increased two or three miles per gallon. Test runs show that the new engine will give 20 miles per gallon at 45 miles per hour.

Driving ease also has been increased by the use of a new 15-to-1 steering gear ratio. The frame is of the double X-type, with the X member running to the rear of the frame to give greater strength. Brakes are of the mechanical type with 186 square inches of braking surface. Other features of the chassis are a silent synchronizing transmission, torque tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, one-piece welded steel spoke wheels and 17x5.50 tires.

Mills Peak Station Replaces One At Elwell

QUINCY, Cal., Dec. 14—(UP)—Visitors to Plumas National park next year will miss a favorite attraction of tourists, when Elwell lookout station is replaced by a new and larger station atop Mills Peak.

Elwell station was one of the oldest and best known lookout points in the forest. The register kept there showed it had been visited by vacationists from all parts of the country.

Mills Peak has been selected as a better location for the station from a fire protection standpoint, forestry officials said.

FADS AND FRILLS IN EDUCATION PHYSICAL EDUCATION (Part Four)

In our schools we are attempting a program of physical recreation with two purposes in mind. The first of these purposes is to provide for the immediate needs of growing boys and girls. The boy or girl with a strong, vigorous body, who engages in suitable play activities, is little inclined to morbid tendencies and practices.

This is not a theory. It is a fact which every physician and every physical instructor knows. The recreational phase of our physical education program is an outlet for the lurking urges which nature put within the human being to meet the conditions of a much more primitive existence.

It is also a means of developing and maintaining in our youth a greater bodily and mental efficiency. Still further, it is a means of enhancing the youth time of their lives with zest and enjoyment which otherwise would be denied them.

The second purpose of the school's recreational program is to instruct our youth of both sexes in habits of play which will carry over into their adulthood. We look upon the inability of many adults to play, even for the sake of their own benefit and enjoyment, as a tragic outcome of their lack of a complete education in their youth. There is no need to fear that the youth of today will learn only how to play. The young men and women who graduate from our schools today are more alert and eager, less reluctant to tackle the problems of the workaday world than any generation of youth in the past.

Eight hundred thousand California youth—twenty-five million American youths—strong and virile of body, clean and vigorous of mind; they are our hope; they are our justification.

The playground and the gymnasium are as ideal places for character-building as they are for body building. Just as we are sometimes forgetful of the fact that the child takes his body into the classroom, so are we forgetful of the fact that he takes his mind with him to his play activities.

Character and personality are not inborn, they are the results of slow growth, the steady building-up of desirable habits throughout youth. The home plays its part in this; so does the church, the school, and the great world outside these institutions. But no one place is of greater importance in this respect than the playground.

Boys and girls of school age are gregarious and physical; this means that they will band themselves together for group activities and play. The results will inevitably depend upon the conditions under which the group activities take place. The schools are attempting to solve this problem for the benefit of the youth themselves, and of society generally.

HOMEMAKING (Part One)

The purpose of homemaking in the curriculum of the school is to teach young men and women to make better homes. Regardless of changes in our social order generally, the American home will always be the basis of our strength as a nation and our happiness and welfare as a people. Not, of course, that the home will not be subject to change in its outward aspects. Many such changes already have come about. Other such changes are rapidly taking place. But the fundamental character of the home must not be sacrificed.

The home was man's earliest social institution. The home is still the most nearly ideal and perfect social institution man has had the good fortune and ingenuity to invent. The homemaking curriculum of the public school is designed to protect the fundamental character of the home and family in a rapidly changing social order, and to aid citizens to apply sound social and scientific principles to home relationships and home practices.

Many American homes break down because of sheer economic inability. But a far greater number of our domestic failures result from lack of knowledge, on the part of the members of the home, of how to adjust themselves to the economic support available.

The primary function of the home is to bring healthy children into the world, and to rear these children to the full stature of citizenship through a proper care and nurturing of their bodies, their minds, and their moral characters.

In a simple society the problems of the home were relatively easy. In a modern society such as ours, the problems of the home are greatly complicated. Society cannot afford to remain blind and insensitive to the dangers which threaten to interfere with the primary functions of the home. The social need for healthy, intelligent, and morally wholesome citizens has never been so urgent as it is just now.

It needs to be remembered that the home is an old institution—older than any other social institution. Through the wreckage of governments and dying civilizations the home has survived. Doubtless it will continue to survive, even if our other institutions are swept away. Society needs good homes more than homes need society.

The simple requirement of a satisfactory home-life should, after all, be easily met.

In the next installment of this series the part being taken through modern school courses in aiding to meet these requirements will be told.

No Need for Special Legislative Session Says Controller Riley

By GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 14—(UP)—California's financial situation is anything but hopeless, and there is absolutely no need of calling a special legislative session or special election for the purpose of devising new methods of raising revenue, according to Controller Ray L. Riley.

If the sales tax is left alone and registration of warrants is continued, the state will know its financial condition by next June, and there will be time enough then to think of additional taxation methods, he said.

Even then, a special session or election would be unnecessary. An ad valorem tax could be imposed without legislative action, and that alone would raise enough income to balance the budget.

Riley is not in favor of resorting to the ad valorem tax unless absolutely necessary, but he indicated it would be better to use that method than to spend additional money on a special session or election setting up some other medium of producing new revenue.

By next July, he pointed out, the state will have collected sales tax returns of three quarters of the year, and will have a good idea how much that system will produce and how much will be needed to meet the remainder of the general fund's deficit.

If it is determined the sales tax will take care of most of the deficit, additional revenue may not be necessary. At any rate, he said, new taxes could be devised next summer in plenty of time to handle the situation.

"The people should not be inflicted with more taxes until we know what the present revenues will total," he said. "The state is solvent. Bankers and others should forget about the warrants now. No one need get excited about the state's financial condition. Warrants being issued now and during the succeeding months will be called in next August. By then we shall know what to do. Meanwhile, my advice to everyone concerned is to 'sit tight.'"

Agitation against the sales tax has died down pretty well everywhere except in Los Angeles county, Riley said. Los Angeles people are complaining because they did not get property tax relief promised under the act. But the reason they did not was because the board of supervisors increased appropriations for unemployment relief and other funds. The state, through the sales tax, lifted a $16,000,000 school tax burden from Los Angeles county, but approximately that much additional was budgeted by the supervisors, and as a result the property owners received no benefit.

The state and the sales tax were unjustly blamed for the situation there, Riley pointed out.

The Golden Text will be: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made." (John 1: 1, 3). Other Bible citations will include: "Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spreads forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images." (Isa. 42: 5, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God creates and governs the universe, including man. The universe is filled with spiritual ideas, which He evolves, and they are obedient to the Mind that makes them." (p. 295).

HIGHWAY CHIEF ASKS COOPERATION TO CURB DECEMBER FATALITIES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 14—(UP)—Peace officers of Truckee have been asked by E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway Patrol, to cooperate in taking precautionary measures to prevent pedestrian motor vehicle accidents during the month of December.

Because of rain and snow storms, which result in slippery pavements and blinding atmosphere, pedestrian accidents usually increase alarmingly in December each year, Cato pointed out in letters to police chiefs and other peace officers. Christmas shopping aggravates the pedestrian problem.

Deaths in December have increased steadily during the past four years. In 1929, 114 pedestrian deaths were reported from incorporated municipalities. In 1930 the figure rose to 133, in 1931 it was 149, and in 1932 it reached a maximum of 155.

"Reduction of pedestrian fatalities in December will have a marked bearing on motor vehicle fatality records for the year," Cato said. "For the first six months of 1933, there was a decrease of seven per cent under those of 1932. For the third quarter, the decrease was three per cent. Unless exceptional effort is made to cut down the accidents this December, our totals for the year may exceed those of 1932."

Don't Laugh At Movies; It May Lead To Divorce

AUBURN, Cal., Dec. 14—(UP)—When to laugh at a moving picture was one of the things they couldn't agree upon, Mrs. Eleth Cook admitted in filing suit for divorce from Jack H. Cook.

The complaint sought a decree upon the grounds of extreme cruelty. A list of charges in support of the plaintiff's contention was submitted.

Included was the charge her husband's sense of humor differed so greatly from hers that he often reproved her for laughing when they attended the theatre.

BEWARE OF CARBON MONOXIDE

Don't warm up your car in a garage or closed space, warns the Public Safety Department of the National Automobile Club. This is a dangerous practice, due to the presence of carbon monoxide (motor exhaust gas), which takes only three minutes to do its deadly work. It is wise, also, to refrain from driving with all windows in the car closed. Sometimes a small defect in the exhaust allows sufficient gas to enter the car, causing sleepiness to the occupants. People who suffer with headaches after driving should satisfy themselves that carbon monoxide is not the cause.

"American Legion Commander Endorses Christmas Seal Sale

Edward A. Hayes, National Commander of the American Legion, is shown in Legion headquarters, Indianapolis, signing his endorsement of the Christmas Seal sale. The campaign is launched throughout the country on Thanksgiving Day each year by the 2,034 affiliated tuberculosis associations. A campaign poster stands on the desk.

INDIANAPOLIS.—Pointing out the "appalling fact" that "one out of every five persons who die between the ages of fifteen and forty-five is a victim of tuberculosis," National Commander Edward A. Hayes of the American Legion issued here today an endorsement of the nation-wide Christmas Seal sale, in which he expressed the "vital interest" of the Legion in the work of the tuberculosis associations and assured a continuance of "full cooperation." Christmas Seals are the little stamps sold annually for a penny each between Thanksgiving and Christmas by the 2,034 affiliated tuberculosis associations to finance their work. The endorsement follows:

"The American Legion is vitally interested in the work of the anti-tuberculosis societies, and is of the firm conviction that the campaign carried on to prevent the spread of the disease is one of the greatest humanitarian movements ever inaugurated in America. It is really appalling to consider the facts. One out of every five persons who die between the ages of fifteen and forty-five is a victim of tuberculosis. It is estimated that we now have two million children who are infected, either active pulmonary tuberculosis or are potential victims requiring special care and treatment.

"In these days of stress and financial limitation, there is grave danger that much of the progress that has been made in the past will be nullified to a certain extent unless the anti-tuberculosis efforts are continued with even greater vigor than ever before. These campaigns and the work carried on under the direction of the societies have been very largely responsible for the reduction of the death rate from this disease over sixty per cent during the past twenty-seven years, and the establishment of certain machinery for prevention and cure.

"This work must be carried on, it must not be permitted to lapse for want of means. The American Legion has, throughout the years of its existence, given its full cooperation throughout the country and will continue to do so. Its Posts will be active throughout the month of December assisting in the sale of the Christmas Seals, from which funds are derived to finance the anti-tuberculosis associations and societies throughout the United States."

We may live to see the day when the United States will resume diplomatic relations with Henry Ford—New Yorker.

LEGAL NOTICE

RE-PASSAGE OF ORDINANCE No. 4

As Amended December 11, 1933

AN ORDINANCE OF THE TRUCKEE SANITARY DISTRICT PROVIDING FOR THE REGULATION, COLLECTION, REMOVAL AND DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE AND PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION THEREOF

BE IT ORDERED BY THE SANITARY BOARD OF THE TRUCKEE SANITARY DISTRICT:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, residing within the limits of the Truckee Sanitary District or elsewhere, to deposit, throw, or place any garbage on any street, grounds or anywhere within the limits of the said Truckee Sanitary District; nor shall any person place any garbage upon any private property, whether owned by such person or not, unless the same shall be included in a properly covered container, which shall be provided by the occupant, tenant or lessee of every business house, store, shop, hotel, restaurant, rooming house, private dwelling house, resident or apartment.

Section 2. A properly covered container shall be construed to be a metallic container, perfectly water tight, and so kept with tightly fitting cover, and such container shall be kept in the rear of the house or in the basement, or passageway, so as to be readily accessible for collection, and never upon the street, alley, sidewalk or other public place, and such container shall be promptly delivered to the collector when called for, and no person, except for such purpose shall in any manner interfere with said container or with the contents thereof.

Section 3. Each garbage container used for and by a private dwelling house, residence or apartment, shall be emptied and cleaned and the contents thereof removed at least once a week, and for such services the occupant, tenant or lessee, shall pay 50 cents a month. Each garbage container, used for and by a business house, store, shop, hotel, restaurant or rooming house shall be emptied and cleaned and the contents thereof removed at least twice a week, and for such services the occupant, tenant or lessee shall pay $1.50 a month.

Section 4. No person shall remove any garbage within said Truckee Sanitary District except such as may be authorized, employed and issued a permit by the Board of the said Truckee Sanitary District and all garbage must be deposited and dumped only in or at a place designated and provided by said Board.

Section 5. The word "garbage" as used in this Ordinance shall be held to include tin cans, paper, rags, ashes and every refuse accumulation of animal, fruit or vegetable matter, liquid or otherwise, that attends the preparation, use, cooking, dealing in or storing of meat, fish, fowl, fruit or vegetables.

Section 6. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine or imprisonment, or both, but no such fine shall exceed the sum of $100.00 and no such imprisonment shall exceed one month.

Section 7. Ordinance No. 4 as adapted in 1927 is hereby cancelled.

Section 8. This Ordinance shall be published once in the Sierra Sun newspaper, and shall go into effect immediately upon the expiration of the week of publication.

Adopted this 11th day of December, 1933.

MAN DIES AS RESULT OF INJURIES RECEIVED
IN ACCIDENT ON S. P.

A man who was identified by papers on his person as Dan Radovich, was picked up on the Southern Pacific tracks last Thursday evening seriously injured.

Edward E. Turbiville, freight brakeman on Train No. 534 which left Truckee westbound about 9:20, and who was riding in the engine cab, noticed what he believed to be the body of a man lying on the westbound tracks. The train was immediately stopped and upon investigation Radovich was found with the right leg completely severed from his body and the left leg and foot badly crushed and mangled. The train was cut in two and the man removed by Al Pfandler, who was riding the train, and the section gang. He was brought to Dr. Bernard's office for medical attention but died within a short time.

Radovich, who it is believed had been employed by H. A. Anderson, a contractor at Brockway, evidently was riding the westbound freight immediately preceding the train which found him, and had fallen from the train and been run over.

Coroner A. M. Holmes of Nevada City conducted the inquest held on Saturday.

N. W. Club Entertained
At Stanley Martin Home

Mrs. Stanley Martin and Miss Bess Graham entertained members of the N. W. Club at the home of the former on Monday evening. Bridge was played until a late hour when dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. J. Archie received the prize for high score with Mrs. J. King receiving the prize for low score.

The following members were present: Mesdames J. King, Ed Pitts, J. Archie, Joe Mandell, Frank Gaiennie, E. L. Loynd, Miss Vivian Riggs and the two hostesses.

Slide Near Floriston Blocks
Southern Pacific Tracks

A slide which covered about 70 feet of the westbound track of the Southern Pacific near the mill dam at Floriston was discovered about two o'clock Wednesday morning. Dirt and rock covered the track to a depth of 15 feet.

A steam shovel worked until 12 o'clock Wednesday night clearing the track. In the meantime all trains were run on the eastbound track.
